PARTY LEADERS SEE VICTORY IN HOOVER'S SMILE

CAMERA DEPICTS STANDARD BEARER OF THE G. O. P. IN A VARIETY OF MOODS

First of his State ever to be nominated for the presidency, Herbert Hoover of California is shown here in a characteristic pose.

New Englanders were well to the front when the delegates took their seats in convention hall.

When the new Republican presidential nominee "took his own medicine," Photo shows Herbert Hoover, then food administrator, and General Pershing eating war-time food served by war nurses. It was Hoover's great war administrative work that won him greatest fame.

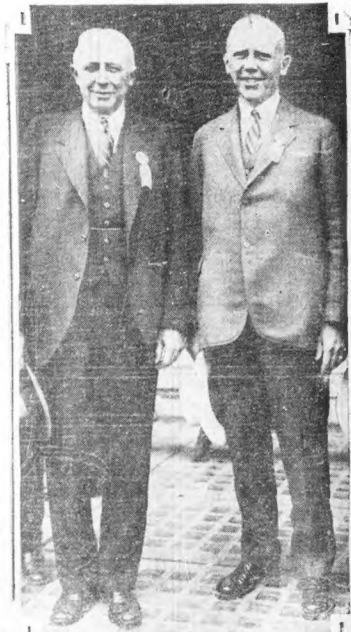

Massachusetts' governor, Alvan T. Fuller, whose name was mentioned as a running mate for Herbert Hoover, standard bearer of the Republican party. Fuller didn't want the position.

Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, permanent chairman. He made all of 'em cheer.

Among convention leaders from New England are Gov. Huntley Spaulding of New Hampshire and former Gov. Percival Baxter of Maine.

AIRPORT BEING ENLARGED

Work on the enlargement of the north and south runway at the Boston airport has begun. This is the first step towards a larger airport and the so-called "short runway" will be lengthened by 300 feet. It is understood that the army will move their hangars in September to the southeast corner of the field area, and the north and south runway will be extended to the bulkhead.

The sewer construction work going on at the airport will halt the removal of the Boston Airport Corporation's hangar until late in the fall, and that means that there will be nothing done all summer to relieve the congested flying area now existing," according to R. F. Billings, operations manager of the airport corporation.

CARNEGIE'S KIN BARES DIVORCE

San Francisco, June 13 (AP)—Admitting that she had obtained a divorce from her millionaire sailor husband, Medford H. Kellum, but silent when pressed for details, Mrs. Elizabeth Kellum, niece of Andrew Carnegie, was here today preparing to leaving for the East. She arrived here yesterday from Honolulu, accompanied by her daughter. More than twenty years ago Mrs. Kellum married Medford H. Kellum, then a sailor. Later he made millions in Florida real estate, and five years ago retired from business.

The couple bought an old sailing vessel which Kellum transformed into a private yacht. They announced they planned to spend the remainder of their lives on the vessel and on an estate in the South Sea.

Mixture of Races Finds California Land of Plenty

A land of plenty, smothered by a mixture of races from the ends of the earth, is described by Winfield Black, noted writer in her analysis of California's heterogeneous population. "All Americans" these types, she says, as she unfolds the interesting details of the land of fruits and mountains.

GLADYS COOPER WED TO BRITISH PUBLISHER

Dorset, England, June 13—Gladys Cooper, noted actress, declared the most beautiful woman in England, was married to Sir Neville Pearson, publisher, at the registry office today.

CLASH ON WAR MEMORIAL IN WINCHESTER

With eyes ablaze and fists clenched, young Richard Parkhurst denounced what he considered a slur on the honor of his absent father, Senator Lewis Parkhurst, in one of the stormiest town meetings that ever Winchester ever knew. The town session not adjourning until the early hours of today.

The special town meeting had been called to discuss the much discussed war memorial in Winchester. The question before the crowd of 500 was whether Winchester should petition the Legislature for permission to raise by taxation the money to pay for the war memorial.

FINED HIS OWN FUNDS.

Four years ago the war memorial was planned, and it was proposed to raise the money for it by popular subscription. Some $17,000 was raised, many of the 1500 contributors to the fund being school children.

But the actual cost was $25,000. Lewis Parkhurst of the publishing firm, Ginn & Co., paid the other $8,000 out of his own pocket, believing that the town would later make it up to him after the money had been paid.

But the money never was made and finally Senator Parkhurst demanded payment from the town.

Willard T. Carleton, well-known Boston banker, signed the petition asking permission to raise the money, as did 38 others, including George Willey, president of the Massachusetts Fisheries Corporation.

MEETING IN UPHOAR.

But P. Mannerly, former town moderator, acted as spokesman for another faction, and insisted that Parkhurst had crumpled the memorial down the throat of the people of Winchester.

Immediately young Parkhurst was on his feet with his indignant remonstrance, and the storm broke, various people trying to get the floor from different parts of the hall.

The meeting was finally called to order and adjournment taken following a vote not to petition the Legislature for permission to raise the money.

Arm Broken in Fall

Two-year-old Eugene Berg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berg of 103 Payson ave., East Boston, escaped with a fractured arm after he had dropped from a second story window of his home, a distance of 25 feet.

GIRL FLIERS CAN NOT GET GOING

St. John, N. F., June 13 (AP)—The planes of the two American women heading projected air expedition to Europe were readied for the takeoff at two Newfoundland ports today, but there was a strong possibility that they would not get away.

Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorologist for the United States Weather Bureau at New York, informed both Miss Mabel Boll and Miss Amelia Earhart that an unexpected storm had developed in midatlantic which may make flying hazardous for several days.

The storm already has affected the weather off Newfoundland, where fog had descended, and brought down fog and rain squalls further out both along the great circle course and the route to the Azores.

Convention Proves 'Real Wow'

By O. O. McINTYRE

Kansas City, Mo., June 13—In another 24 hours it is likely that Kansas City will cover the parlor furniture, pack the front window curtain in camphor for the attic, dismiss the hired butlers and otherwise return to a normal life. K. C. is saying, "Kale and farewell!"

The convention, as we say in Parliament, has been a wow. Good performers, a packed house, and a lot of laughs, as an old circus clown, no one could ask for more. The only disappointed person I have seen is a bellboy at my hotel who brought me a pitcher of ice water. "How's the convention treating you?" I inquired. "Not so good," he replied, "gaining at my angle in his outstretched palm. I would rather have the ordinary run of traveling work."

A convention oratory is obsessed with the notion that he must work himself up into something like an epileptic seizure before he can pull such a crowd as this. "The nation must endure," of course it will endure; don't be silly. What's to prevent? The people who deserve real sympathy at this convention and who do not receive it are the newspaper boys. I call them "boy" in my head, but I don't say it. I used to be one myself. Most of them have been catching forty winks of sleep with their clothes on. I know one who had two cups of coffee and a good sleep sandwich in 48 hours. They are utterly played out. A few days respite is offered them before they must trek to Houston and go through the whole dreary business all over again. Perhaps never before has there been such a galaxy of literary stars at a political convention. They are here from all over America, as well as England, France and the Orient and one even from Arkansas. All in all it has been a first class convention. Despite the bands, the musical scoring and the lady who has been calling up from out of town in Kansas insisting I am her long lost and kidnapped child. I'm glad I came, and I hope Kansas City comes to see me some time. The address is 44 and Madison. Four flights up; ring Finnegan's bell. (Copyright, 1928, 30-Night Star, Inc.)

HOVER PICKDOWN RUNNING MATE ON TICKET, SAYS M'QUAID

DAY STATERS ARE HAPPY AT CHOICE OF CONVENTION

By ELIAS M'QUAID

Kansas City, June 15.—There was a time yesterday when the Governor Fuller vice-presidential stock appeared to be in the way or failing. There was, indeed, something like a Fuller boom in evidence, for an hour or two. Then all of a sudden, it seemed to flatten out.

Two things are said to have contributed to the fall of the Fuller movement. One, the story goes, was the vigorous and characteristically incisive opposition of Senator Borah of Montana, who is said to have pictured to the party managers a campaign in which half the time of G. O. P. voters would be employed in explaining to the farmers that notwithstanding the rejection of the McNary-Haagen equalization bill the Republican party is still the best friend of the honest husbandman—and the rest of their time occupied by an explanation of the Success-Vanetti case.

WIFE BOON FADDED. Another factor which is said to have counted against our Bay State Governor was the more bitter opposition of a middle West statesman, who several years ago was in Congress with him and now is a person of consequence in the national organization.

This eminent gentleman is said to have commented caustically upon Mr. Fuller's record as a Congressman, his infidelity being that the Massachusetts man at that time was not what could be called a "republican."

But mostly the Fuller movement has failed because of the opposition of hearty and enthusiastic support by the Massachusetts men who are on the ground.

The Illinois-poor Hoover folk are as generally greeted in him as ever, as sincerely appreciative of what he has done for the cause in New England meant at a time when his support was needed. But these gentlemen, after all, are not many and some of their associates have complained that the Governor—or at least those back home who have been acting for him—has not been quite frank with them. They do not pretend to know, they complain, exactly what Mr. Fuller has had in mind. They are said to second place on the ticket. He has not told them that he wants the office much less asked them, aid in getting the nomination for him.

And so, in the face of the Borah blast and the fiery opposition of the unnamed statesman from "beyond the Albanian," they have not been at all sorry to see the Fuller-Go.

URGES FULL SUPPORT. "The Republican party has a right to expect that every man and every woman shall do his and her full duty. Let the past talk about the past. Let rivalries and bitterness be forgotten. The job before us is to fill up another mountain of votes in November and elect the entire ticket, President, vice-president, governor, U. S. senator, the entire card."

Former State Senator Gordon W. Torrey, who, with Mr. Gordon, will journey to California and the Pacific Northwest and return by way of the Canadian Rockies, said the nomination of Mr. Hoover would put new life in the Republican organization in Western Massachusetts.

Paris Press Acclaims Nomination of Hoover
Paris, June 15 (AP).—The nomination of Hoover as Republican candidate for the presidency was given much favorable comment in the papers today.

For weeks there have been columns in all the papers about the man whom France knows so well through his Loyd relief and other war work. One paper in friendly enthusiasm said: "He has every chance of replacing Coolidge."

Hoover Thanks Convention; Congratulations Pour In
Washington, June 15 (AP).—Secretary Hoover, reaching his office at 9:15 today, engaged first in drafting letters to the Republican national convention at Kansas City to express his thanks for the presidential nomination awarded him last night.

A mild demonstration, largely staged by the Commerce Department employees who chanted to be in the halls during his swift progress, greeted him and he smiled as he entered the department and at home there was the ever-sweet tide of messages of congratulation coming in on all parts of the world in a volume that demanded tentative attention of the volunteer executive secretarial staff. The convention message, addressed to Senator Hoover, went out, but was held in confidence to be sent to him.

Washington, Ky., June 15 (AP).—For a day of factional clamor ending in fist fights, challenges to personal combat, jeering and hocking of speakers, the Kentucky Democratic convention voted to pledge its 24 national delegates to Governor Smith of New York.

The disorder was caused, not by partisans of Smith and his opponents, but by leaders of party groups who split last fall when Governor U. S. Senator J. C. W. Beckham was defeated for governor by James D. Slaughter, Republican. With the exception of Beckham, the entire Democratic state ticket was elected last night through the private use of poll over and collapse. If the truth be known, it is not unlikely that one or two of these have given his prostrate form a kick-for good luck.

HOOPER WILL NAME MATE. Before the convention is called together for its final session the leaders of the organization will have been informed of Secretary Hoover's personal preference if he has any. No one around here is going to take the chance of winning an undesirable running mate upon the man whose 137 votes on the first ballot—137 out of 108—has placed him at the head of the grand old party for at least eight years.

Mr. Hoover will name his own running mate by telephone, if he has not one already. Or, at least, he will have placed his O. K. on a selected group of names—three or four, possibly—a "quite acceptable."

The problem of the leaders remains the double-barreled affair which has been described in this correspondence yesterday. Should the party seek to place its own name in the Middle West for its vice-presidential pick, or should it come to the Hoover nomination where Governor Smith is said to be a strong possibility?

A good scrapper like George Higgins Moses of New Hampshire, native son of the State of Maine, it remains to be seen, however, that the time has come when both political parties will do well to give serious attention to the Americans who, ten years ago, were fighting in the greatest war in history.

When these delegates got back to their hotels last night they found American Legionnaires swarming in the lobbies and a Stanford MacNider boom going full blast. MacNider, please remember, is an Iowa man.

The happiest Massachusetts man in Missouri today beyond question is John Richardson, the young Federalist, who took up politics for the first time a few months ago when very very quietly assumed direction of the Hoover primary campaign in Massachusetts.

An delighted beyond measure with our success thus far, Mr. Richardson said to the Boston Evening American's representative, "I feel that the time has not come for 'burrahs'."

Massachusetts Republicans have the man of our overwhelming choice as our candidate for President. It is up to us now to elect the man who carries the state high, wide and handsomely. There is hardly a month of hard work ahead of us.

URGES FULL SUPPORT. "The Republican party has a right to expect that every man and every woman shall do his and her full duty. Let the past talk about the past. Let rivalries and bitterness be forgotten. The job before us is to fill up another mountain of votes in November and elect the entire ticket, President, vice-president, governor, U. S. senator, the entire card."

Former State Senator Gordon W. Torrey, who, with Mr. Gordon, will journey to California and the Pacific Northwest and return by way of the Canadian Rockies, said the nomination of Mr. Hoover would put new life in the Republican organization in Western Massachusetts.

Paris Press Acclaims Nomination of Hoover
Paris, June 15 (AP).—The nomination of Hoover as Republican candidate for the presidency was given much favorable comment in the papers today.

For weeks there have been columns in all the papers about the man whom France knows so well through his Loyd relief and other war work. One paper in friendly enthusiasm said: "He has every chance of replacing Coolidge."

Hoover Thanks Convention; Congratulations Pour In
Washington, June 15 (AP).—Secretary Hoover, reaching his office at 9:15 today, engaged first in drafting letters to the Republican national convention at Kansas City to express his thanks for the presidential nomination awarded him last night.

A mild demonstration, largely staged by the Commerce Department employees who chanted to be in the halls during his swift progress, greeted him and he smiled as

Broncho Charlie, ex-time Indian scout, former friend of Buffalo Bill and Gen. Custer, known as the "One Man Western Show," will be the chief attraction at Gilchrist's on Saturday, National Children's Day. Broncho Charlie, who will be at the Camp, street floor, will tell tales of the West, play his musical saw and give his puppet show. Mrs. Weston will entertain the little girls with her song, stories and costumes.

MAY EXPORTS FROM U. S. HIGHEST SINCE 1920

Washington, June 15 (AP).—May exports from the United States were $428,000,000 and more were $455,000,000, leaving a balance of trade favorable to the United States of $63,000,000. The exports, the Commerce Department said today in announcing the figures, represented the highest export value for any corresponding month since 1920.

IN IMPORT VALUES WAS ATTRIBUTED LARGELY TO THE LARGE RECEIPTS OF COTTON.

Exports, centrally located, 12 foreign countries, including the United States, were $428,000,000. The largest receipts of cotton, valued at $100,000,000, were from the United States. Other large receipts were from Canada, $100,000,000, and Mexico, $100,000,000. The increase in exports was accounted for largely by increased shipments of cotton, wheat, auto machinery, machinery, petroleum products and lumber. The increase

$25,000 Gloria Swanson Slap Stumps the Jury

New York, June 15 (AP)—The jury failed to agree today on the question of whether Gloria Swanson, the screen star, did or did not slap S. Alexander Cohen when he attempted to hand her a subpoena on September 15, 1925.

the Marquis de la Falaise de la Cour, asking $25,000 for "physical pain, humiliation and detrimental publicity."

Cohen said Miss Swanson, now

SWEDISH PLANE SPEEDS NORTH TO AID NOBILE

Stockholm, Sweden, June 15 (AP)—The three-motored Swedish seaplane, updated beyond all at 500 a. m. today for Spitzbergen. It will cooperate in measures being taken to rescue the crew of the Italia.

Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 15 (AP)—In need of equipment to enable them to withstand the rigors of the Arctic until rescued, Gen. Umberto Nobile and five other survivors of the distasteful Italia were near and today, but unable to reach it.

The general's injuries and the broken leg of Nobile's co-pilot prevented them from leaving the ice floe on which they have been drifting since May 23.

Nobile was optimistic however, in a message to the base ship Citta di Milano he said he believed his party was in a position of safety. They were on a small island of frozen ice, and only a short distance from the mainland.

They have drifted to this position since Tuesday night, when the machine was forced further to the northeast, being 10 miles east of Charles II island.

Amundsen Will Fly to Aid of Nobile's Party

Oslo, Norway, June 15 (AP)—Roald Amundsen intends to fly to Spitzbergen to assist in the work of rescuing Gen. Umberto Nobile, his companions in the dirigible Norge's flight across the pole two years ago.

He telegraphed the French Ministry of Marine, which placed Commander Guilford and a seaplane at his disposal, expressing deep gratification at the ministry's action. He said he would fly to Spitzbergen in the plane and would endeavor to get Lieut. Dietrichsen, Norwegian flyer, to accompany him.

Report of Rescue Is Doubtful in Stockholm

Stockholm, Sweden, June 15 (AP)—Nothing was known here today regarding a report that three members of the crew of the Italia had been rescued.

It was felt in Stockholm that the news could not be correct, because Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish scientist, who was rumored to be one of those found, would certainly have acknowledged his capture if he were rescued.

400 HOLD CLASS DAY AT TUFTS AND JACKSON

Four hundred members of the graduating class of Tufts and Jackson colleges gathered in the auditorium of Chase Day today with the traditional "Senior Last Chapel," a ceremony unattended by the year for alumnus and dignity.

Led by Miss Virginia Call, Lovell, Me., Jackson memorial, and Melvin H. Boyer, Tufts memorial, the seniors, clad in their hazy caps and gowns, circled the college building, passing through the arched door of the chapel tower.

They were addressed by Dr. Leo S. McCollister and President Cousins, the whole ceremony lasting less than an hour.

The remainder of the day was given over to public exercises followed by the tree exercises, in which the class oration, poem, prophecy and will were read and the class songs were sung. These were held on the campus green.

Participating in this event, Thomas M. Wilson, Jr., Lorchester, class president, gave the address of welcome; Chandler M. Wright, Somerville; Louis E. Huxford, Fitchburg; Miss Gertrude H. Everett, representing the men's and women's colleges.

Miss Grace Haver, Everett, was voted the class beauty.

Tonight fraternities will sponsor fireworks.

FRANK D. ROCK
The credit manager of Armour & Co. was chosen president of the National Credit Men's Association at the Seattle convention.

HONORED BY CREDIT MEN

Seattle, Wash., June 15—On the peak of an active career in the credit field, Frank D. Rock, credit manager for Armour & Co. today heads the National Association of Credit Men with his election to the presidency at annual convention here.

Mr. Rock is a native of Wisconsin, born there March 24, 1871, and received his early education in the public schools at Milwaukee. In 1899 he was graduated from Michigan Military Academy at Orchard Lake, Michigan.

Joining the Armour organization, he was assigned to Chicago as district credit manager, later receiving promotion to assistant general credit manager and finally general credit manager.

In the latter position, the strenuous war period came on, followed by the reconstruction program immediately after. Arduous duties resulted in a threat to his health and transfer to Denver followed.

In the national organization he has served four years in the Chicago association, another four years as director of the Denver Association, one year as national director, and the past three years as national vice-president, representing the western division.

400 STUDENTS GO TO CAMP

More than 400 college students members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps at New England universities, will open their annual camps of instruction of six weeks duration today at Camp Devens, at Fort Proble, Portland, Me., and at Fort Ethan Allen, Burlington, Vt.

Attending the camp at Fort Devens will be 275 students from Harvard, Yale, M. I. T., Boston University, Connecticut Agricultural College, Rhode Island State College, University of Maine and from the University of Vermont.

Camps of instruction for medical engineering and infantry students will be conducted. Col. William E. Taylor of the 15th U. S. Infantry will command the Devens Camp. Its executive officer will be Lieut. Col. F. F. Black.

At Fort Proble 60 members of the coast artillery reserve officers will be trained. Col. William E. Taylor of the 15th U. S. Infantry will command the Devens Camp. Its executive officer will be Lieut. Col. F. F. Black.

Cavalry students from Norwich University and from the Massachusetts Agricultural College start out today on a cavalry march to Fort Ethan Allen.

BAZAAR PROCEEDS GO TO AID OF SCHOOL

The entire proceeds of the second annual bazaar of the Dorchester and Mattapan Hebrew school, now attracting thousands of people, will be devoted to the completion of the Hebrew school building to make possible an opening in September. In charge are Rubin Reingold, chairman; Samuel Goldstein, Elias Halpern and Clarence Yanofsky.

You are Invited to see why GOODYEAR TIRES are made of SUPERTWIST

As Goodyear Dealers we are glad to give you the very definite reason why Goodyear SUPERTWIST built tires deliver such tremendous mileage.

Once a tired tire collapses, nothing will really revive it. Even after a costly repair job, it remains a tired tire, ready to collapse again at the first hard jolt.

The extra money you eventually spend on such tires for the miles you should but don't get makes tired tires a costly proposition—to say nothing of the discomfort, trouble and delay entailed in nursing them.

Goodyear Tires, on the other hand, keep going, and give you full mileage because the entire body of the tire is built of Goodyear SUPERTWIST, those wonderful cords with extra stretching quality.

Where ordinary construction reaches the distortion and breaking point, SUPERTWIST construction remains intact and lively because of its engineered capacity to absorb the roughest going and "flex" right back again, keeping the tire in shape, in service, and in condition to deliver the full mileage you pay for, including the additional 10% to 25% mileage which "tired" tires fail to give.

That is why we are proud to sell Goodyear Tires. Now see the Goodyear prices listed on this page. Then think of them in terms of untiring mileage, and realize the double saving.

HUB FLIER TO DO STUNTS AT LOWELL AIR MEET

Just. Francis C. Crowley of the U. S. Army Air Corps, a Boston boy, has been detailed by Assistant Secretary of War Truman Davidson to fly from Detroit to the Lowell air meet, June 21.

Just. Crowley, whose accomplishments in the air have been distinguished by more than a thousand hours of flying time without the slightest mishap, will give stunt flying exhibitions at the Lowell meet on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

PLAN SHOW FOR BENEFIT OF ITALIAN CHILDREN

An entertainment for the benefit of the Home for Italian Children will be presented at St. Mary's Theatre, Cooper st., North End, next Monday evening. The performance is under the direction of Vincent Minicelli of Medford, assisted by Mrs. Sara Schiavone, John Scatella, and a cast of 50 players. Mrs. Schiavone is chairman of a committee of the Italian American League, and the Home for Italian Children, Leonard Castiglioni, Michael Comperello, Frank Salvo and Patrick Schiavone.

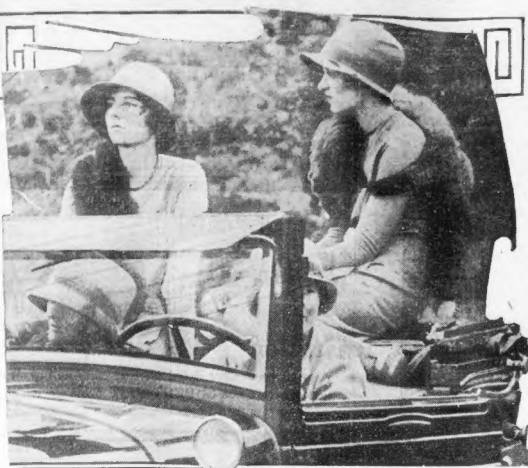

RACE MEET GREATEST THRILLER, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Society Eager for Country Club Events Which Begin Tomorrow

THERE'S NOTHING, REALLY nothing, on the entire social calendar that, for excitement, thrills and universal interest compares with a race meet. Society, the sort deserving of a capital "S" and rapturous phrases, is keen for such entertainment. Horses worth a king's ransom and guarded far more closely than an heir to the throne camp in numberless stables awaiting the arrival of tomorrow. The world and his wife consider a race meet the maximum of pageantry, and turn out accordingly.

THE CONTINGENT DEVOTED to horse and not of local persuasion comes many a mile for tomorrow's and Monday's races at the Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Colman, smart members of the Baltimore upper crust, have a dual attraction that brings them to Boston. They will see Miss Lorna Underwood wed with Andrew Galbraith Carey this afternoon, and tomorrow to the races. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Fowler of New York come over to be guests of Mrs. George S. West, and Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Clark do likewise, to do the races and be Mrs. West's guests at luncheon.

UNCKEON WITH THE PETITE Mrs. West and her tall, tall husband at their Chestnut Hill home is a jolly buffed affair, partaken of by many, many guests. It is a holiday festivity quite as much a part of the race meet as the color and enthusiasm. Mrs. West also is a boxholder. Her name is one of the important ones inscribed on a well-placed box, and for neighbors she will have other hosts and hostesses such as Mr. and Mrs. Ankustus F. Goodwin, Gen. Francis Penholy, Reginald Bird, Mrs. Lohrby Anne, the Bayard Tuckermans, Henry G. Vaughan, Mrs. Richard Saltontall, et cetera, et cetera.

Helen Warren Anne Warren
TWO SMART SUB-DEBUTANTES AT A RECENT HORSE SHOW

TWO MAIDENS TODAY WALK up the aisle of high hopes to future happiness and are joined with the splendor, the lights, the vestments, the candles and the choir of solemn church ceremonies. Miss Ellen Frothingham at 2 this afternoon exchanges a well-known Boston cognomen for that of Dunsell in Arlington Street Church's quiet spaces; while a short hour later, in the pretty little Unitarian Church in Belmont, Miss Lorna Underwood and Andrew Galbraith Carey pledge vows everlasting.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES close their doors, and the exodus Old World-ward commences, as professors and students range across the ocean in a procession almost unbroken. Take Cambridge, for instance. Servants from the University Town in numbers are departing for European centers of culture, after a season of instilling culture in students aforementioned, attended by success in varying degrees.

PROF. CHARLES J. BULLOCK and Mrs. Bullock of Channing st., Cambridge, are sailing tonight at midnight. So are Prof. Albert Sarver and Mrs. Sarver of the same college center. Prof. George B. Weston likewise departs. They are all passengers via the Franco, and are away for their usual summer travel abroad, a regular procedure each year. Not until college opens in the autumn will they turn face home again.

THE FRANCE THIS MIDNIGHT sails from New York with important Providence people aboard. Mr. and Mrs. T. I. Hare Povel of the Rhode Island city take their departure. An interesting family from Weston sailing on the France includes Mrs. Francis B. Sears, her sub-debutante daughter, Miss Rosamond Sears, and her son, Edward Buckingham Sears.

IT WILL BE ONLY FOR A FEW months that Miss Rosamond Sears may be dubbed a sub-debutante. Mrs. Sears is preparing to effect her daughter's social entry this next winter, and so she takes the bull abroad for that absorbing pastime of getting together a coming out troupe. The girls who do not thus spend the summer immediately before presentation in this manner may be counted on one hand. And "something I got in Paris" somehow seemed to clothe the pretty debutante more gloriously than anything of native vintage, when she makes her bow.

NEXT WINTER'S SET IS EVEN now stepping forth into the

AL'S DAUGHTER TAKEN SICK IN BOSTON

The coronation of Mrs. F. J. Quinn, daughter of the Governor of New York, was a most interesting and successful affair, and at the same time.

If you let Gloria walk out broad-shouldered and tall and young, riding in a motor car, it is a form of prostitution brought to its most shameless and vulgar expression. It is the only thing that I can think of.

There is no reason, I think, why the "big" people should not be able to get along without the "little" people. I think that the "big" people should be able to get along without the "little" people. I think that the "big" people should be able to get along without the "little" people.

The little declared the Irish reminded her so, what of a lady in that era in the city that is, however small it said. So does not like the hurry and bustle of New York, she declared.

Note

If gasoline and kerosene are mixed in your tank, here's what you'll see: If you put into a test tube that part of crude oil from which gasoline is made: Top—layer of pure gasoline.
Bottom—a layer of kerosene.
Between—in the "borderland" a mixture that has some of the characteristics of both gasoline and kerosene, and is the real cause of "knocking," fouling, crank-case dilution, loss of flexibility, speed, and power.

The Biggest Thing in Motoring!

YOU can't see the "borderland" mixture in ordinary gasoline—but it's there, ready to strike. And when it hits your motor—that's when the trouble begins. For "borderland" is the real source of most carbon-knocking, fouling, sluggish pick-up and lack of power.

After years of research and at great cost, our engineers developed a new process of super-refining gasoline by which we eliminated entirely all trace of the "borderland" mixture between kerosene and gasoline. Vast amounts of "commercially usable" gasoline are sacrificed daily to insure the extra high quality of NEW COLONIAL GASOLINE.

You're often asked to pay a premium for some of the qualities that have made New Colonial famous. Extra power—swifter pick-up—greater mileage—freedom from knock. But in NEW COLONIAL you get all these finer features—at no extra price.

Hundreds of Colonial Stations and thousands of Colonial Dealers in New York and New England are ready to give you better motoring at lower cost.

FOUR SENATORS
ON 'L' BOARD

President Wellington Wells of the Senate today appointed the four members of the upper house who will sit on the joint committee of 15 in an attempt to solve the Boston Elevated future, as demanded by Governor Fuller.

The four senators are: William D. E. Bliss of Malden, Thomas T. Fanning of Boston, George B. Fanning of Salem and Edward T. Simmons of Marblehead. All are Republicans.

Speaker John C. Hall of the House will announce his 11 appointees later.

THREE COUPLES CLAIM
WORLD'S DANCE RECORD

New Kensington, Pa., June 13 (AP)—Three couples today claimed the world's marathon dance championship in a contest here which ended at 11:00 a. m. The new record was 10 hours and 10 minutes.

One of the winning couples, Herman and Alice, of Pittsburgh, was married by a Justice of the Peace. The other two couples were the other contestants.

The contest was held at the home of the Justice of the Peace, who was also the judge of the contest.

CHINA CAPITAL TO BE MOVED

Peking, June 15 (AP)—The Nationalist government of communications at Nanking has ordered the Peking telegraph office to remove to Nanking, the Chinese capital.

It is understood that the foreign office in Peking also is being moved and that the mail administration may be transferred to Nanking or moved down.

Ever since the Nationalists and Communists captured Peking, they have appeared little disposition on the part of the Nationalist government at Nanking to set up its executive offices in the Chinese northern capital. There have even been rumors that the Nationalist government would move to the southern city of Chungking as the capital of China and make Nanking the center of the city of the Nationalist.

Nanking is the old classical capital of South China, having been the seat of government successively of the six dynasties before it was taken by the Communists in 1949.

BROOKLINE REALTY MAN PROTESTS GAS STATION

Claiming lack of local notice, Brookline real estate dealer today filed formal protest with the Brookline selectmen for removal of a gas station from the historic Brookline and its vicinity.

The dealer said the station is a blot on the landscape and is a disgrace to the town. He said the station is a disgrace to the town and is a disgrace to the town.

"Bringing Up Father"

You've Never Seen Such Fun!

Jiggs is coming to town, and Maggie and Dinty and all the other funny people in the world-famous George McManus cartoon, "Bringing Up Father."

And what a side-splitting treat for you! Right before you on the screen, as sure as the sunrise, as certain as corned beef and cabbage on Monday, as real as a rolling pin on the head of an erring husband.

Fun? You've never seen such fun.

Nashua Country Club Set for New England Amateur

Suspension for Lynn Boxing Club
The Lynn Boxing Club has been suspended from the New England Amateur Association for a period of three months for failing to comply with the rules of the association. The suspension is the result of a vote taken by the association's executive committee.

Maclean Wagers $500 Murphy Will Beat Al
Alex Maclean, former manager of Jack Johnson, today made a wager of $500 that Billy Murphy would win the New England welterweight championship from Al. Maclean placed his bet on Murphy in a 10 round bout at Fenway Park on next Thursday night.

COURSE IN EXCELLENT SHAPE FOR MATCH

By BILL GRIMES
For weeks the Nashua Country Club course has been undergoing a priming, in preparation for the third annual New England amateur championships, which will be held next month. Although Rhode Island and Worcester, which were the scene of the two previous New England, offer a more arduous test for a championship than Nashua, the scoring at the New Hampshire course is not going to be as startlingly low as some predict.

"Lefty" Shea, B. C. Pitcher, Signed By Red Sox

A Canyon Carved by a River.
THE Grand Canyon, according to geologists, was carved out by the Colorado river, assisted by weathering through long ages. The river is still engaged in deepening the gorge as it rushes along the bottom of the canyon.

Martha Lee Tells of Blue Plate Dinners

BY MARTHA LEE
HAVING passed a good many years and seasons in the kitchen, I can tell you quite a lot about the "blue plate dinner" which is so much talked about. It is a very simple thing, and one which every woman should know how to make. It is not a fancy dinner, but a good, solid, nourishing one. I will tell you what it is, and how to make it.

It is a very simple thing, and one which every woman should know how to make. It is not a fancy dinner, but a good, solid, nourishing one. I will tell you what it is, and how to make it.

WHAT are you planning for Bunker Hill Day? A trip to the seashore... mountains... a ball game... or will it be a pleasant day at home with friends dropping in to visit?

Whatever the occasion, wherever the place—don't forget good old Chelmsford. This sparkling ginger ale has become a true part of good New England holidays.

Chelmsford, indeed, is the New England ginger ale. It is made and distributed locally by our own trucks. And because it is the largest selling ginger ale in New England, the price is very reasonable. Ask your dealer for Chelmsford by name! It costs no more and you get better ginger ale.

Ginger ale made with pure Jamaica's ginger and ripe fruit juice. What a wonderful difference! Order Chelmsford at all grocery, drug and confectionery stores. Golden or Pale Dry.

AVOID PERSONALITIES

By J. J. MUNDY

"WHY do so many women talk about other women, slanderously, while men seldom do anything of this sort?" is a question asked.

And it is difficult to answer.

Women are supposed to be more kind-hearted than men.

They should be as loyal, woman to woman, but they are not, on the whole.

Among men there is a strong fraternal feeling.

The man who criticizes an absent man in a party of fellows is decidedly unpopular. Fortunately there are few such men.

Often women score other women with little apparent provocation.

Not often will men bring up unpleasant subjects at a social function.

There are few men who would deliberately try to hurt another man or woman when both are guests of a mutual friend.

But there are women who follow this practice, even at parties, where

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

FOR BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Better pay for honest public service.
3—As a reward for service to the city.
4—Section of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare its use in the land, in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

FOR NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a commonwealth.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping abreast of the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages in the North Atlantic and West Indies.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of new methods in merchandising.
5—Promote the use of our natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New Englanders to better marketing methods.

Growing Up Real Men

No Immediate Fear of the Country Being Taken Over by the Amazons

Colonel Roy F. Ferrand, of St. John's Military Academy, an outstanding citizen of decidedly masculine attributes, is troubled by a certain softness which he detects in the young men of America.

To his softness he attributes what he believes to be an increasing tendency of the American girl to put on trousers and otherwise to comport herself after the fashion of the male of the species.

"If they marry a lily, someone must be the man of the family," said the Colonel in his address before the Women's Council for National Defense.

If we are raising our boys to be lilies, our girls must, no doubt, be prepared to assume the sterner duties of life, for a civilization composed exclusively of tender plants is not going to last long, despite the assurances of the pacifists.

However, we are not convinced that the Colonel's apprehensions are entirely justified, either as to the effeminization of the American boy or the converse change in the personality of the American girl.

We have always had soft boys who shrank from the harder experiences which men are expected to undergo. And we have always had girls who lamented the fact that their sex debared them from the activities and the clothing of men, and who went as far in adopting masculinity as they were permitted.

Maybe there are more of each than formerly. Maybe, as is the case with a good many natural phenomena, nowadays, we hear more about them than we used to. Anyhow, at this writing, a sufficient number of American boys are growing up to be real men to dispel any immediate fear of the country being taken over by the Amazons.

The Way to Profit

Co-operation Offers a Means Whereby Small Units May Attain the Benefits of Big

A necessary factor in business is profit. Business may and should have other motives (notably good service), but without profit these cannot endure.

It is well-known that the large units in business, upon the whole, excel the small units in the percentage of their profits. That is why the business of America is continually expanding into larger units. Big business pays.

A nation-wide survey of business costs and profits, made for the ninth international cost conference now being held in New York City, reveals some encouraging facts.

One is why big business tends to be more profitable than little. It is not simply because of its size, but because of its closer scrutiny of costs and trends, and because of its superior use of research.

Where the small business man is inclined to guess or take a chance, the management of big business insists upon knowing. Knowledge is power.

Co-operation offers a means whereby small units may attain the benefits of big. The protracted expense of careful research can put groups of small business men nearly on a parity with the large units which control research in their own laboratories.

Once the access to knowledge is equal, success will go to the more efficient, regardless of initial size.

Fair South African

But Why the Skirt?

MISS "BOBBY" HEINE IN ACTION

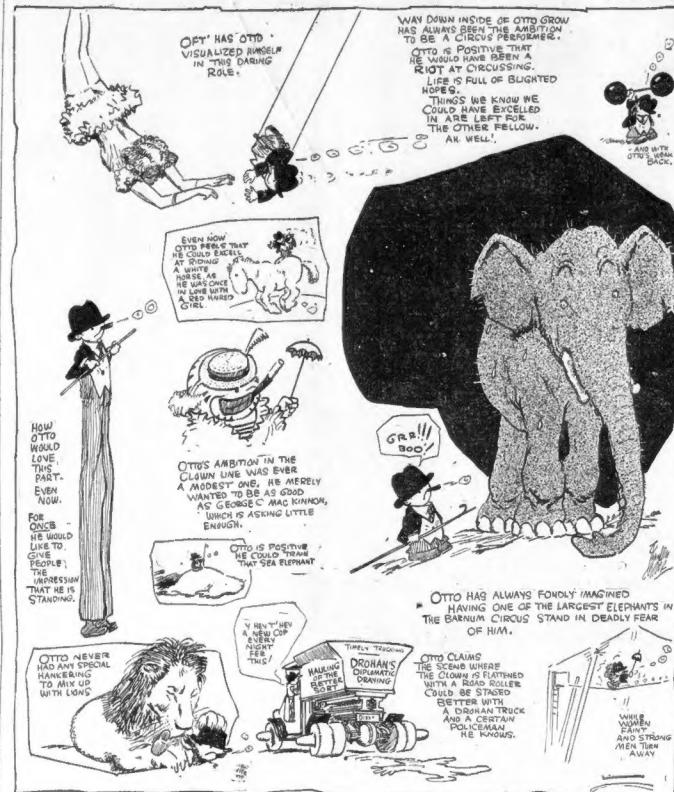

This young lady, Miss E. L. Heine, nicknamed "Bobby," comes from South Africa, and reflects great credit on that part of the world. She is tall, with golden hair, only seventeen years old, and a wonderfully fine tennis player.

If South Africa can produce girls of this kind, then South Africa, one of these days, will be a country rivaling the power of mother Britain. Such DAUGHTERS as this produce great SONS.

You wonder, as you see this picture, why tennis ladies feel on wearing skirts. The skirts do not stay down, flop around, impede movement. Sensible knickerbockers would be better.

Otto Grow's Secret Sorrows

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

SAYING A GOOD WORD FOR FATHER

By DR. FRANK CRANE

LET us say a word for Father. In the first place he belongs to the male sex, which seems to me to be undervalued.

Contrary to the common opinion, or the opinion most commonly expressed in novels and on the stage, I don't think he is any more of a victim of undue passion than the female. Men of my acquaintance, on the whole, have been about as decent and as virtuous as the women.

In the second place, I think he feels a sense of responsibility towards his children and his wife about as keenly as the mother does. Of course mother love is very demonstrative, but when it comes to putting his neck in the yoke and working long days after day for the benefit of his offspring, I think Father deserves some kind of medal.

He is usually called on to discipline the children and that is not a very pleasant task. But it can be quite as much a proof of affection as humoring the children. One can be a good father and a good spanker at the same time.

The father, as a rule, gives his days and his years to labor for those dependent upon him. He behaves himself and is a good soldier because he recognizes his responsibilities and meets them.

Sometimes he has no one to sympathize with him very much, as his wife is too busy with the children to give him very much attention. If he looks for sympathy outside of the family he is pretty sure to get his foot in a trap.

The more I see of men the better I think of them. I am not like the woman who said the more she saw of men the better she liked dogs.

A man earning his own living and supporting his dependents, facing the world and all its problems and doing his duty is entitled to much credit.

Over in the East they make much of paternal affection; in fact, they worship their ancestors. The tendency in the West seems to be the other way. If a man has sacrificed everything for his children and his wife they think he has done no more than he ought to do. Give him a link and a promise and let him go at that.

So here's to the Fathers of the country! May their children rise up and call them blessed. Of course it is a fine thing to honor your mother, but at the same time let us not forget the old gentlemen.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHEN I was a tiny child they told me that if I'd be good I'd be happy. When I presently found that this wasn't true I was so mad and disappointed that I almost swore off goodness for life. I have since discovered that many children have gone through this same experience and I think that it is time someone exposed this amiable hoax, and told the youngsters the truth about goodness.

Let me hasten to state, before we proceed, that I believe in goodness and that I am more convinced every day that it pays to be good. BUT IT DOESN'T PAY IN HAPPINESS.

"There was a slang phrase much used in my childhood by the more flippant. 'Be good and you'll be lonesome.' It ran, and a truer thing was never said. There are, of course, cases of good people who live the life of contented cows. But generally speaking, two things, fighting goodness is far from a peaceful career.

One hundred per cent good people are apt to be extremely lonesome. They're also apt to be despised and persecuted.

They may lose their friends and their jobs, and their families will certainly grieve on them. In short, if you're going to live for goodness on a large scale, you'll have to get all the breaks at present. This isn't strange. It does not imply that humanity is in the hands of the devil. It merely implies that we're still far from civilized and that most of us are still thinking the man-monkey. It takes a well-developed brain to see that goodness really pays.

The real truth about goodness really pays. And we'd promote the cause of righteousness much more readily if we'd be frank about it. There's no use telling little children that goodness is a snip. If they have the sense God gave grandmother they'll prove you're a liar within 24 hours. But if you'll tell them that it takes courage and will and originality and spirit to be good, then maybe you'll start something.

The early Christians understood this fact very clearly. Christ did not promise earthly rewards to his followers—nor did he anticipate any for himself. He offered, and accepted, poverty, humiliation, suffering and death.

There was a great challenge in the code of Christ—an idea that made poor men feel rich and weak men feel strong. Christianity was founded on pride as well as love, and it went on into arenas with cheering, arrogant eyes.

The flabby modern substitutes we offer won't send men into arenas. In fact, we don't even like to admit now that there are arenas, or other inevitable unpleasantness in life.

We're sure that there must be some force, some power which will free us from all distress. Happiness is our slogan, and if you don't become a happiness you mean's some more. We're not looking for anyone—we're looking for cooey corners.

And this, I protest, is the logical result of our perditional presentment that "if you're good you'll be happy."

New York Day by Day

O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 15—Thoughts while strolling: Broadway after dark. The sickly greenish glow of quick photo shops. Mannish women with awagery sticks. Beauty parlor sign: "Cigarette stalls removed instantly." Fulton Currier and Bids Dudley. Amos Carter of Ft. Worth. Bureau for West Texas!

The alert theatrical ticket clerks at their battery of phones. Blithely said dance theater. One dollar cleaners. And boys who "clean you" for less. Girls who bestow winks and leaving smiles and walk hurriedly up a side street. P. P. A. A. neck. T. E. Powers, the cartoonist. Bookies with runners. Rhinestone heels. Auctioneers who are not standing before you to make a penny sale. It is a mad world of products. What's become of Brooks John! The movie stars with long capes. Fresh doughnuts. Chew nuts. Pictures of the Spanish Inquisition.

Not quite like the old Broadway—but almost. One who carries cigarettes and matches in dog-eared bags. Chorines in waitresses getting a breath of fresh air at stage doors. A lady who dropped her life savings in a recent show—and is still smiling.

Husks who hurt morning editions from moving trucks. Glimmer of night clothing store windows. Freshly barbered boys around the Winter Garden. Newsies throwing dice in doorways. Ladies who steer boy friends to jewelry windows.

Times as, as light as moon day. Elmer Davis, an American Jew, boy who made good in the city. Papers from all cities. And grafters. Window letter cake queens who look out over the sidewalk crowds so laughably. George White selling in liquor in the box office at his own theater.

Goodies! Steps up to a sandwich counter. Ticket speculators making curate tips. The regular gloom of the Metropolitan. The nondescript lighted shirt front. And of faded women in black dresses and white cotton gloves who sell packages of gum.
